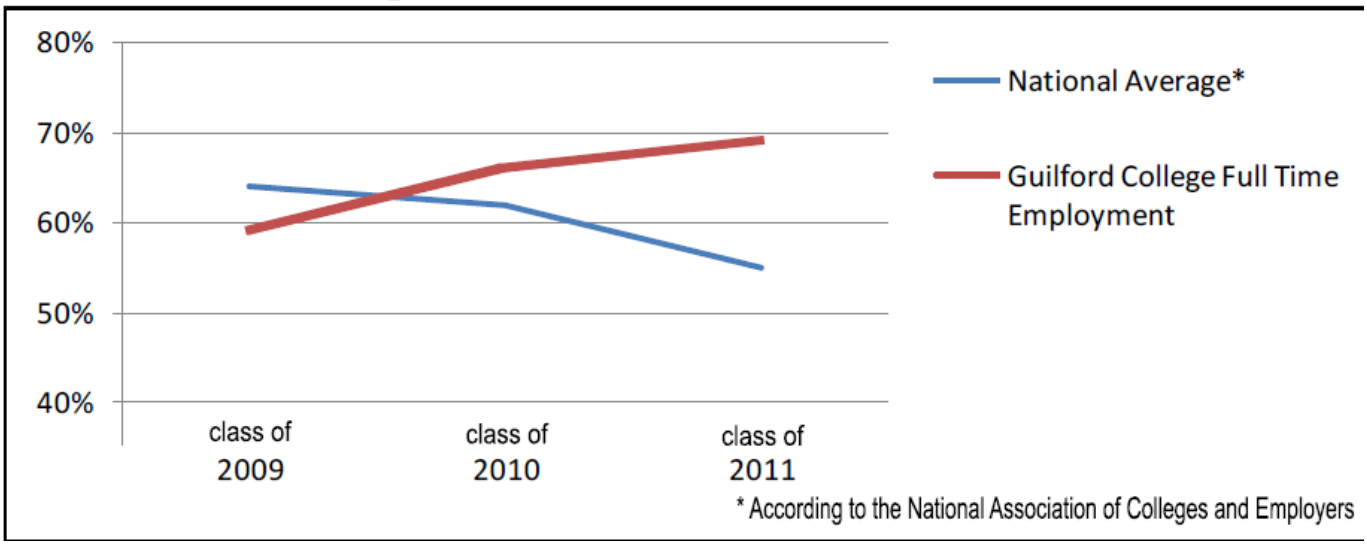
Guilford College … Great Investment….Greater Return….

Our students and alumni are going amazing places and experiencing fantastic opportunities. Check out what some of our students and alumni are pursuing. Read how their Guilford stories have continued, after the cap and gown. More alumni profiles are available on You Tube (www.youtube.com/guilfordcollege.)

Guilford College Full-Time Placement Rate as Compared to the National Rate



In a study from the Triangle Business Journal by Chris Baysden, Guilford College ranks sixth among 36 independent North Carolina institutions in mid career median salary. Guilford's mid career median salary is $64,100.

Accounting

Mandy Satterfield ('12 graduate with a major in Accounting) is working as an Accounts Payroll Manager at H.M. Kern.

Toby Akinsola ('11 graduate with a major in Accounting and a minor in Business) has been admitted to the Master of Accounting program at North Carolina State University.

Neliana Zhivkova Karaman ('11 graduate with a double major in Accounting and Business Management, and a minor in Human Resource Management, is pursuing a MBA at UNC-Greensboro.

Alexa Williams ('10 graduate with a major in Accounting and a minor in Money & Finance) is working at a law firm in northern Virginia.

African American Studies

Grady Gamble ('12 graduate with a double-major in African American Studies and Sociology/Anthropology) is working as a recreation specialist with the Boys & Girls Club of Harford County.

Art

Charles (Sharp) Hall ('12 graduate with a major in Art) is working at Yellow Dog Design.

Rebecca Nicholson ('11 graduate with a double-major in Art and French) has received a fellowship to teach in Toulouse, France for the 2011-12 year.

Gracelee Lawrence ('11 graduate with a major in Art) is an artist in Greensboro, NC. Learn about her work at www.graceleelawrence.com.

Susanna Goodman '09 is an apprentice at Tye River Pottery in Virginia.

Josh Goulart '09 has a self-owned business Refined Home Relics selling his woodcrafts.

Brett McDonough '08 is teaching ceramics at Art Alliance in Greensboro, running summer arts program at New Garden Friends, and studio potter exhibiting in south east.

Kay Kelley ('08 graduate with a major in Art) has been admitted to three prestigious Master of Fine Arts programs: San Francisco Art Institute, Otis Institute of Art, and Boston Museum School.

Biology

Rebekah Burlason ('12 graduate with a double-major in Forensic Biology and Criminal Justice, and a minor in Psychology) is a crime scene technician with the High Point Police Department in High Point, NC.

Courtney Mandeville ('12 graduate with a double-major in Biology and Environmental Studies) is a field technician at the University of Alaska, Fairbanks.

Jessica Klaphaak ('11 graduate with a major in Biology and a minor in Chemistry) is pursuing a Master's Degree in Biochemistry at the University of Copenhagen, Denmark.

Charysse Brown ('11 graduate with a double-major in Biology and Health Science) has been accepted into the PA program at Chatham University.

Kelsey Penland ('11 graduate with a double-major in Biology and Health Science) is pursuing a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree at Louisiana State University.

Amanda Haungs ('11 graduate with a major in Biology and a minor in Chemistry) is a lab analyst with Bestsweet.

Stephanie Blankenship ('11 graduate with a major in Biology and a minor in Chemistry) is pursuing her Ph.D. in Neuroscience at the University of South Florida.

Mahmoud Saleh ('11 graduate with a double-major in Biology and Chemistry) is currently employed by Syngenta and plans to apply to medical school.

Liz Killion ('11 graduate with a major in Biology and a minor in Chemistry) is pursuing a Ph.D. in Biochemical and Molecular Nutrition at Tufts University.

Preston Kick ('11 graduate with a double-major in Biology and Health Science) is attending Virginia Tech's Via College of Osteopathic Medicine.

Kim Heck ('11 graduate with a major in Biology and a double-minor in Chemistry and Integrated Science) is pursuing a M.S./Ph.D. in Molecular Genetics at The Ohio State University.

Sara Lachance ('11 graduate with a major in Biology and minor in Chemistry) will begin medical school in Fall 2012.

Elliott Diggs ('11 graduate with a major in Biology and minor in Integrated Science) is pursuing a Master's Degree at the University of Alabama-Huntsville.

Claire Foxman ('10 graduate with a major in Biology) is pursuing a Doctor of Physical Therapy degree at Temple University.

Raji Ward ('10 graduate with a double-major in Biology and Health Science) is pursuing a graduate program in Nursing at Johns Hopkins University.

Camille Clement ('10 graduate with a double-major in Biology and Health Science) is pursuing a graduate program in Nursing at Simmons University.

Melissa Wilks ('10 graduate with a major in Biology and minor in Chemistry) is pursuing a Master's Degree at the University of Ohio-Akron.

Tonya Johnson ('10 graduate with a major in Biology and minor in Chemistry) is pursuing a Ph.D. at Clemson University.

Seth Congdon ('10 graduate with a double-major in Biology and Health Science) will begin medical school at UNC-Chapel Hill in Fall 2012.

Abigail Harris ('09 graduate with a double-major in Biology and Health Science) is pursuing a Physician Assistant graduate program at Wake Forest University.

Jenn Abelin ('09 graduate with a major in Biology and minor in Chemistry) has been admitted to graduate programs in Chemistry at Cornell University, Emory University, University of Virginia, and University of Pittsburgh.

Marvin Morales ('09 graduate with a major in Biology and minor in Environmental Studies) has been admitted into the Biology Ph.D. program at the University of Florida, where he'll study the Ecology of Neotropical birds in Central and South America Heather Koehler ('09 graduate with a double-major in Biology and Health Science) is pursuing a Physician Assistant graduate program at Seton Hall University.

Leah McKinney ('08 graduate with a double-major in Biology and Health Science) is pursuing a Physician Assistant graduate program at Wake Forest University.

Mahlet Abera ('08 graduate with a double-major in Biology and Health Science and a minor in Chemistry) is currently pursuing a Ph.D. in Pharmacology at the University of Pennsylvania.

Alexis Mincer ('08 graduate with a major in Biology) is pursuing a Physician Assistant graduate program at Drexel University.

Annie Irving ('08 graduate with a double-major in Biology and English and a minor in Chemistry) is currently working as the International Programmes Manager in the International Office at the University of Dundee in Scotland and has been accepted to medical school.

Jed Litsey ('08 graduate with a double-major in Biology and Health Science) is attending the Medical College of Georgia.

Business Management

Luke Vandall ('12 graduate with a major in Business Management) is working at Campus Outreach.

Andrew LeGrant ('11 graduate with a major in Business Management and a minor in Money & Finance) has been admitted into a JD/MBA graduate program at Western New England College.

Quantina White ('11 graduate with a major in Business Management and a minor in Dance) completed an internship at The White House, Washington D.C., where she worked in the Department of Treasury as a Special Events Assistant.

Ann Seufer ('10 graduate with a major in Business Management and a double-minor in Money & Finance and Sport Administration) is an assistant women's basketball coach at the University of Arkansas – Fort Smith.

Andrew Sailer ('10 graduate with a major in English and a minor in Business Management) is working as a paralegal at Alston & Bird, a law firm in Washington, D.C.

Jessica Casto ('09 graduate with a major in Business Management) accepted a position at West Virginia Wesleyan College as an Assistant Coach.

Sarah Munro ('09 graduate with majors in German, International Studies, and Political Science and a minor in International Business Management) was admitted into graduate programs at Central European University as well as the Willy Brandt School of Public Policy at University of Erfurt. Sarah will be pursuing a Masters in International Relations & European Studies at Central European University, where she received a scholarship and a living stipend.

Chemistry

Michael Iglesia ('08 graduate with a double-major in Chemistry and Mathematics) is currently enrolled at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in the M.D./Ph.D. program.

Trevor Denning ('11 graduate with a major in Chemistry and a minor in Integrated Science) is employed at Metallix Refining in Greenville, NC.

Coye Eakes ('11 graduate with a major in Chemistry and a minor in Integrated Science) has been admitted to a graduate program in Chemistry at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Dana Small ('10 graduate with a major in Chemistry and a double-minor in Integrated Science and Mathematics for the Sciences) will be pursuing a Master of Science in Medical Sciences at Mississippi College in preparation for medical school.

Simone King ('09 graduate with a major in Chemistry and minors in History and Integrated Science) has been admitted to Temple University Law School and University of Santa Clara Law School.

Ryan Vary ('09 graduate with a major in Chemistry and minor in Physics) has been admitted to graduate programs in Chemistry at Brown University, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, University of Virginia, and Georgetown University.

Computing & Information System

Claire Massagee ('12 graduate with a major in Computing and Information Technology) is the Data Director for the NCGOP's Victory Campaign, where she is in charge of database management and the development of the many and varied reports regarding everything from voter data to survey results.

Dana Sullivan ('08 graduate with a double-major in Computing and Information Technology and English and a minor in Math for Sciences) previously worked as a Programmer for University of California Davis Veterinary Genetics Lab and is now a Web Content Editor for the organization Yes on Gay Marriage, located in Sacramento, CA.

Community and Justice Studies

Cordelia McKusick ('12 graduate with a major in Community & Justice Studies) is working at Cape Cod Yoga Studio Design.

Eloise True ('12 graduate with a major in Community & Justice Studies) is interning with the Global Workers Justice Alliance.

Je'Lissa Fowler ('11 graduate with a major in Community & Justice Studies and a double-minor in Business Management and Women's & Gender Studies) was selected for the Public Allies – Pittsburgh, Americorps Ally program, a national nonprofit whose mission is to advance new leadership to strengthen communities, nonprofits and civic participation.

Brian Daniel ('11 graduate with a double-major in Community & Justice Studies and Education Studies) is pursuing a Master's Degree in Higher Education at the Old Dominion University in Norfolk, Virginia and works as Village Coordinator at Virginia Wesleyan College.

Barbara (Bobbie) Sonner ('11 graduate with a double-major in Community & Justice Studies and Sociology & Anthropology) works with the Servant Center, a non-profit organization in Greensboro serving homeless and disabled men. She and fellow Guilford graduate, Kevin Smith, '08, have co-produced and directed a film, Let's Lose Our House: A Modern Foreclosure Tale on the foreclosure crisis. The film premiered at the historic Carolina Theater in downtown Greensboro in March 2012.

Cheryl Brooks-Poole ('11 graduate with a major in Community and Justice Studies major) is pursuing the Master of Education degree with a concentration in Special Education at the University of North Carolina, Greensboro.

Christie Atlee ('10 graduate with a major in Community and Justice Studies and a minor in Interpersonal Communication) works as the VISTA Volunteer Outreach Coordinator with Higher Achievement, in Washington DC, an afterschool and summer academic program that works to close the opportunity gap for middle school youth in at-risk communities.

Juliet Carrington ('10 graduate with a double-major in Community & Justice Studies major and Education Studies) has been selected to work with Teach for America beginning in summer 2012.

Erica Bailey ('10 graduate with a major in Community & Justice Studies and a minor in African American Studies) is pursuing the Masters of Arts degree in Theater and Media As Development at the University of Winchester in England.

Meisha McDaniel, ('09 graduate with a major in Community and Justice Studies and a minor in Non-Profit Management) is a Fellow at the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Prior to this position, she researched community-scale energy efficiency and renewable generation through Climate Corps Bay Area, an innovative AmeriCorps pilot program with the Marin Community Foundation in Novato, California. Before going to the Marin Community Foundation, she was awarded a Bill Emerson National Hunger Fellowship, which allowed her to work with two nonprofits in the Washington, DC area (Joint Center for Political and Economic Studies and DC Hunger Solutions), crafting local and national policy analysis and recommendations.

Criminal Justice

Justin Pike ('12 graduate with a major in Criminal Justice) is joining the Henrico Police Department.

Eleni Murdough ('11 graduate with a major in Criminal Justice) has been admitted to the Ph.D. program in Forensic Psychology at Walden University.

Morgan Freyer ('11 graduate with a major in Criminal Justice and a minor in Psychology) has been admitted into a graduate program in Clinical Psychology at Loyola University in Baltimore, MD.

Jordan Duhe ('09 graduate with a double-major in Criminal Justice and Political Science) has been admitted into the Washington & Lee University School of Law.

Economics

Jason Brent ('10 graduate with a double-major in Mathematics and Economics) was recently admitted to Ph.D. programs in Economics at American University in Washington, D.C. and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Jason will be pursuing his Ph.D. at UNC-Chapel Hill, where he received a scholarship and a living stipend.

Kaitlin Shimansky ('09 graduate with a major in Economics and a minor in Political Science) has been admitted to and offered scholarships from law schools at Tulane University and Elon University.

Hannah Johnston ('08 graduate with a major in Economics and a double-minor in Sociology and Spanish Language & Society) was admitted into the graduate program in Economic Geography at Queens University in Canada, where she also received a scholarship.

Gary Beste ('08 graduate with a major in Economics and minors in Business and Money & Finance) is currently pursuing a Master's Degree in Economics at the University of Delaware.

Education Studies

Morgan Andrews ("12 graduate with a double major in Education Studies and English) is teaching at Southeast Guilford High School in Greensboro, NC.

Anna Freeman-Woolpert ('12 graduate with a double-major in Education Studies and French) is teaching English in France.

Matthew Sinclair ('11 graduate with a major in Education Studies) will be pursuing a Master's degree in Higher Education Administration at Vanderbilt University.

Brian Daniel ('11 graduate with a double-major in Education Studies and Community & Justice Studies) is pursuing a Master's Degree in Higher Education at the Old Dominion University in Norfolk, Virginia and works as Village Coordinator at Virginia Wesleyan College.

Alice Reville ('11 graduate with a major in Psychology) teaches at Greenwood School in Hyattsville, Maryland.

Tova Dinken ('11 graduate with majors in Education Studies and Religious Studies) teaches in Rishon Le Zion, Israel.

Sheila Brown ('11 graduate with majors in Education Studies and Psychology) teaches at Penn-Griffin Elementary in High Point, NC.

Danielle Hammersley ('11 graduate with majors in Education Studies and Mathematics) teaches 7th grade math at Jamestown Middle School in Jamestown, NC.

Manar Hmeidan ('11 graduate with majors in Education Studies and Computer Information Systems) teaches Language Arts at the Greensboro (NC) Islamic Academy.

Domonique Powell ('11 graduate with majors in Education Studies and Psychology) teaches K-1 Southern Elementary School in Greensboro, NC.

Teresa Scholosser ('11 graduate with majors in Education Studies and Psychology) teaches 2nd grade at Bessemer Elementary School in Greensboro, NC.

Verlinda Whitsett ('11 graduate with Education Studies and Psychology) is a Teaching Assistant at Vandalia Elementary in Greensboro, NC and in graduate school.

English

Elizabeth Farquhar ('12 graduate with a major in English and minors in Communications and Anthropology) is editing and writing sports for NCAA.com.

Mary Holden ('12 graduate with a major in English and minor in Environmental Studies) is a copy editor for New River Information in Greensboro, NC.

James Williamson ('12 graduate with a major in English) is accepted to an editorial internship with Oxford American in Little Rock, AR.

David Pferdekamper ('12 graduate with a double-major in English and Political Science) is working as the Content Assistant/Writer at Guilford College.

Mary Holden ('12 graduate with a double-major in English and Environmental Studies) is working as a Copy Editor for New River Innovation in Greensboro, NC.

William Cloyd ('12 graduate with a major in English) is working as the Men's Assistant Basketball Coach at Guilford College.

Damian Romney ('11 graduate with a major in English and a double-minor in Psychology and Religious Studies) is teaching in Boston through AmeriCorps' City Year program.

Spencer Musick ('11 graduate with a major in English) has been admitted into a Ph.D. track program in Critical Theory at the University of Chicago.

Chris Crocker ('11 graduate with a major in English and a minor in Education Studies) published a poem, "God," in the Spring 2010 issue of Lake Effect. Upon graduation, she received a Dorothy Lloyd Gilbert Award to teach underserved populations in Honduras.

Madeleine Straubel ('11 graduate with a major in English and a minor in Theatre Arts) has been working as an associate coordinator of the Festival of the Eno in Durham, NC.

Chelsea Rivas ('11 graduate with a major in English and a double-minor in Education Studies and Medieval/Early Modern Studies) is teaching in Columbia, SC, through Americorps City Year program.

Lain Kellogg ('11 graduate with a major in English and a minor in Visual Arts) was one of three finalists for the Swadish Deroy Journalist Scholarship and represented Guilford College in Tokyo, Japan at the Spring 2010 awards ceremony.

Emily Ellis ('10 graduate with a major in English) completed an editorial internship with VIVA travel guides in Quito, Ecuador and is teaching English in Vietnam.

Sari Schutrum-Boward ('10 graduate with a major in English and a double-minor in Communications and Theatre) is teaching in Korea.

Clara Van Kleeck ('10 graduate with a major in English and a minor in Theatre) is teaching English in Vietnam.

Benjamin White ('10 graduate with a double-major in English and Philosophy) received a prestigious Fellowship in Philosophy to pursue graduate studies at Temple University.

Joanna Bernstein ('10 graduate with a double-major in English and Environmental Studies) will be pursuing a graduate program in Community and Regional Planning at the University of Oregon.

Lauren Holt ('10 graduate with a double-major in English and French) has earned a teaching fellowship sponsored by the French Ministry of Education in Besançon, France for 2010-11. The program works to improve English-language education in France and to encourage the French/American cultural exchanges.

Rachel Dede ('10 graduate with a double-major in English and Education Studies) will begin her second year of full-time teaching in South Korea.

Luci Cook ('10 graduate with a major in English and a minor in French Language and Society) is employed in Atlanta with Computer Troubleshooters USA as an office/administrative assistant providing technical/administrative support to the company's worldwide franchises.

Cassidy Willet ('10 graduate with a major in English) teaches high school English at McMichael High School in North Carolina.

Laura Milot ('09 graduate with a major in English and a minor in Education Studies) is pursuing a graduate program in Film & Screenwriting at Hollins University.

Katie Plyler ('09 graduate with a double-major in English and French and a minor in Medieval/Early Modern Studies) has been admitted into a Master of Arts in Teaching program at SUNY Stony Brook.

Anna Clarke ('08 graduate with a major in English and a minor in Visual Arts) is pursuing a M.F.A. Creative Writing program at Sarah Lawrence University.

Jake Blumgart ('08 graduate with a major in English and minor in European History) is completing an internship as a writer for The American Prospect Magazine (published by Campus Progress) in Washington, D.C.

Sara Clawson ('08 graduate with a major in English and a minor in Medieval/Early Modern Studies) is the Content Editor for Managed Data Group in Greensboro, NC.

Josh Cohen ('08 graduate with a major in English and minors in Communications and Music) is completing an internship for Teacher Magazine (part of EducationWeek.org) as a webmaster/writer. He is also freelance writing for, among others, Guilford College.

Clare Davis ('08 graduate with a double-major in English and Theatre Studies and minor in Medieval/Early Modern Studies) recently began her MA program in Renaissance English Literature at Kings College, London.

Carl Farlowe ('08 graduate with a major in English and minor in Japanese Language and Society) is teaching English in Japan.

Kaitlyn Moore ('08 graduate with a major in English and minor in International Studies) earned her TSOL in Budapest, Hungary after graduation; she now works as a freelance writer and translator in Thailand.

Amanda Oehlert ('08 graduate with a double-major in English and French) is now in an Engineering program in Oklahoma, after teaching in France upon graduation. She has also enlisted in the Army Reserves.

Anastasia Smith ('08 graduate with a double-major in English and French) is completing her MFA in Creative Writing at the University of North Carolina Greensboro.

Megan Horsley ('08 graduate with a major in English and minors in Education Studies and Interpersonal Communication) is a Project Coordinator for United Healthcare and is earning her Master of Arts in Teaching degree at the University of North Carolina Greensboro.

Environmental Studies

Elle Anderson ('12 graduate with a double-major in Environmental Studies and Business Management) is working at City Segway Tours in Washington, D.C.

Josh Lewis ('08 with a major in Environmental Studies) is pursuing a Ph.D. in Systems Ecology at Stockholm University in Sweden.

Exercise & Sport Sciences

Fernando Cruz ('11 graduate with a double-major in Sports Medicine (now Exercise and Sport Science) and Health Science) is pursuing a Doctor of Podiatric Medicine degree at the Ohio College of Podiatric Medicine.

Hannah Merrell ('11 graduate with a double-major in Sports Medicine (now Exercise and Sport Science) and Health Science) is pursuing a Physician Assistant graduate program at the College of Wooster.

Jacob Bright ('10 graduate with a double-major in Health Science and Sports Medicine (major now called Exercise & Sport Sciences) and a minor in Chemistry) has received a full 100% tuition medical school scholarship and a living stipend from the Health Professions Scholarship Program (HPSP) awarded by the United States Army. Jacob will be attending the Edward Via College of Osteopathic Medicine (VCOM) and has an interest in the medical specialties of neurology, orthopedics, and family medicine.

Brittany Cutts ('10 graduate with a double-major in Sports Medicine (now Exercise and Sport Science) and Health Science) is pursuing a Doctor of Physical Therapy degree at East Carolina University.

Drew Ward ('10 graduate with a double-major in Exercise and Sport Studies (major now called Exercise and Sport Sciences) and Education Studies) is teaching at North Wilkes High School in North Carolina.

Lenore Spransy ('09 graduate with a double major in Sports Medicine (now Exercise and Sport Science) and Health Science) is pursuing a Ph.D. in Exercise Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Tyler Ledford ('09 graduate with a major in sports medicine (major now called Exercise and Sport Sciences) is pursuing a Doctor of Physical Therapy program at North Georgia College & State University.

French

Sarah Stangl ('12 graduate with a double major in French and Sociology/Anthropology) has received a fellowship to teach in Toulouse, France for the 2012-2013 year.

Anna Freeman-Woolpert ('12 graduate with a double-major in French and Education Studies) has received a fellowship to teach in Rennes, France for the 2012-2013 year.

Scottie Mitchell ('11 graduate with a double-major in French and Community & Justice Studies) has received a fellowship to teach in Montpellier, France for the 2012-2013 year.

Natalie Spitzer ('11 graduate with a major in French and a minor in Political Science) received a fellowship to teach in the cities of Nancy and Metz, France for the 2011-12 year and is now an Assistant Program Director for the AJC Decatur Book Festival in Georgia.

Nicholas MacSeoin ('10 graduate with a double-major in French and History and a minor in Political Science) has earned a teaching fellowship sponsored by the French Ministry of Education in Rennes, France for 2010-11. The program works to improve English-language education in France and to encourage the French/American cultural exchanges.

Rachel Aseltine ('10 graduate with a major in French and a minor in Visual Arts-Art History) received a teaching fellowship sponsored by the French Ministry of Education in Reims, France for 2010-11. The program works to improve English-language education in France and to encourage the French/American cultural exchanges.

Dana Teate ('10 graduate with a major in French and a minor in Spanish Language & Society) has earned a teaching fellowship sponsored by the French Ministry of Education in Limoges, France for 2010-11. The program works to improve English-language education in France and to encourage the French/American cultural exchanges.

Isaac McAlister ('10 graduate with a major in French and minor in Anthropology) is working as a tutor in Language Arts in West Hartford, CT.

Eric Campbell ('10 graduate with a major in French and minor in Visual Arts-Photography) is serving as a Peace Corps volunteer in Madagascar.

Hilary Routon ('09 graduate with a major in French and minor in Sociology/Anthropology) is working at the Austin International Schoool in Austin, TX.

Emilie Grant ('08 graduate with a double-major in French and Peace & Conflict Studies) is a recruiter at Population Services International is Washington, D.C.

Elizabeth Mehaffey ('08 graduate with a double-major in French and History) is attending graduate school for Clinical Mental Health Counseling at NC A&T.

Geology

Will Mason-Deese ('10 graduate with a major in Geology and a minor in Integrated Science) has been admitted into a graduate program in Geology at the University of Georgia.

Nathan Lyons ('09 graduate with a major in Geology and a minor in Integrated Science) has been admitted into the graduate program in Marine, Earth, and Atmospheric Sciences at North Carolina State University.

William (Graham) Payne ('09 graduate with a major in Geology and a minor in Integrated Science) has been admitted into a geology graduate program at New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology.

Jennifer Fierro ('08 graduate with a major in Geology and minors in Integrated Science and German Language and Society) is currently pursuing a Master's of Science Program at Coastal Carolina at the Center for Marine and Wetland Studies.

Michael Muir ('08 graduate with a major in Geology and a minor in Integrated Science) recently completed an internship with California-based company ESRI, the developers of ArcGIS software.

Laura Gustavson ('08 graduate with a double-major in Geology and Environmental Studies) is currently employed by the geophysical research company Schlumberger and resides in Houston, TX.

German Studies

Kaycee Ingram ('12 graduate with a double-major in German Studies and International Studies-Europe) has a Fulbright Teaching Assistantship for 2012-2013 in Germany.

Ryan Sanders ('12 graduate with a double-major in German Studies and International Studies-Europe) has an Austrian Fulbright Teaching Assistantship for 2012-2013.

Leona Schweins ('08 graduate with a triple-major in German Studies, Criminal Justice and International Studies-Europe) is graduating from Elon Law School and taking the bar exam summer 2012.

Health Sciences

Sara Waitsman ('11 graduate with a major in Health Sciences) has been admitted into a graduate program in Physical Therapy at Duke University.

Emily Ferris ('10 graduate with a double-major in Health Sciences and French and a minor in English-Writing) has earned a teaching fellowship sponsored by the French Ministry of Education in Besançon, France for 2010-11. The program works to improve English-language education in France and to encourage the French/American cultural exchanges. Emily also published a poem "Saturday, November 3rd" in Prick of the Spindle, Vol. 3.2. She also published a poem "Philadelphia Calls Seattle and Forgets to Listen" in Paradigm's Mitchell Issue.

Bryan Cook ('08 graduate with a double-major in Sports Medicine and Health Science) is currently pursuing a Doctor of Physical Therapy degree at the Medical College of Georgia.

Kelly Gonzalez ('08 graduate with a double-major in Sports Medicine and Health Science) is currently pursuing a Doctor of Physical Therapy Program at Shenandoah University.

Sarah Rohan ('08 graduate with a double-major in sports medicine and health sciences) is a research assistant at Duke University.

History

Anne Rappe ('12 graduate with a major in History and minor in Women's Gender Studies) is a library assistant at the Petersburg Public Library in Petersburg, VA.

Scott Weiss ('12 graduate with a double-major in History and Religious Studies) is pursuing a master's degree in Religious Studies at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland.

Casey Starkweather ('12 graduate with a major in History) will attend Charlotte School of Law.

Kyle Wooden ('11 graduate with a major in History and a minor in Sociology) is joining the Karlskoga Bats professional baseball team in Sweden.

Daniel Hood ('11 graduate with a major in History and a minor in Medieval/Early Modern Studies) has been admitted into a graduate program in Irish History at Boston College.

Meaghan Dill ('11 graduate with a double-major in History and French) received a fellowship to teach in Grenoble, France for the 2011-12 year.

Meredith Ward ('10 graduate with a major in History and a minor in German Language and Society) was awarded a Fulbright U.S. Student Program scholarship to Germany in Teaching English as a Foreign Language for the 2011-12 year.

Edward Guimont ('09 graduate with a double-major in History and Political Science) will begin the Master of Arts study in History at the University of Connecticut this fall.

Paul Miller ('09 graduate with a double-major in History and Political Science and a minor in East Asian Studies) will be teaching English in China following his graduation from Guilford.

Integrative Studies

Mary Luong ('08 graduate with a major in Integrative Studies and a minor in Psychology) is enrolled in a Doctoral program at North Carolina State University.

International Studies

Caroline Corbett ('12 graduate with a major in International Studies and minor in German Language & Society) will be pursuing a master's degree in music from Zurich University of the Arts.

Jonathan Richter ('10 graduate with double-major in International Studies and Music) has been awarded the 2012-13 Fulbright Scholarship for ethnomusicology research in China.

Music

Brendan Lynch ('11 graduate with a major in Music and a minor in Education Studies) is pursuing a graduate program in Guitar Performance at the University of South Carolina, where he was awarded a teaching assistantship.

Allison Faulkner ('11 graduate with a major in Music) is pursuing a graduate program in Vocal Performance at Westminster Choir College.

Helen Gushue ('11 graduate with a major in Music and a double-minor in English and Philosophy) is working for Teach for America.

Alison Tynes ('10 graduate with a major in Music) is pursuing a graduate program in Vocal Performance at the Peabody Conservatory.

Jesse Freedman ('10 graduate with a major in Music and a minor in Philosophy) has been admitted to and awarded a scholarship for a graduate program in Guitar Performance at the University of Southern California.

Caitlin Coon ('10 graduate with a major in Music) is pursuing a graduate program in Music Education at C.W. Post, Long Island University.

Aidan Cahill ('09 graduate with a major in Music and a minor in Religious Studies) is pursuing a Master of Music Performance degree from Cleveland Institute of Music.

Miranda Fedock ('08 graduate with a major in Music) is pursuing a graduate program in Violin Performance at East Carolina University.

Peace & Conflict Studies

Chelsea Hornick-Becker ('09 graduate with a major in Peace and Conflict Studies) has been admitted to the University of Bradford's graduate program in African Peace and Conflict Studies.

Jenn St Mary ('08 graduate with a double-major in Peace & Conflict Studies and Sociology & Anthropology) has been admitted into the Boston College Law School.

Garrett FitzGerald ('08 graduate with a double-major in Peace and Conflict Studies and Religious Studies) received his Master of Theological Studies, with a focus on religion, ethics, and politics from Harvard Divinity School in 2010. He is currently serving as a development associate with International Physicians for the Prevention of Nuclear War in Boston, MA.

Philosophy

Cyle Barber ('11 graduate with a major in Philosophy) has been admitted into the American University School of Law.

Physics

Hannah Seyb, ('12 graduate with a major in Physics and minors in Mathematics and Spanish) is working at the Science Center of Iowa.

William, Moser, ('12 graduate with a double-major in Physics and French and minor in Mathematics) is working at Patriot Biodiesel in Greensboro, NC.

Melanie Corbett ('11 graduate with a triple-major in Physics, Mathematics and Computer Information Technology) is teaching high school in Greensboro, NC and will attend graduate school in Medical Physics at Eastern Carolina University Fall 2012.

Nathan Knisely ('11 graduate with a double-major in Physics and Mathematics) is enrolled at the Georgia Institute of Technology in the Ph.D. program in aerospace engineering.

David Jackman ('09 graduate with a major in Physics and minor in Astronomy) is teaching high school and plans to attend law school.

Elise Weaver ('09 graduate with a major in Physics and minor in Astronomy) obtained a masters in Astrophysics at Applachian State University is now working as a lab instructor at Bowdoin College in the physics department.

Ryan Vary ('09 graduate with a major in Physics and Chemistry) is enrolled in a Physics PhD program at UNC Chapel Hill.

William Hahn ('08 graduate with a major in Mathematics and concentration in Physics) in currently in a Ph.D. program in Brain Studies in Florida.

Jonathan Poe ('08 graduate with a triple-major in Physics, Computer Information Technology and German) is working at MIT's Lincoln Laboratory.

Vladimir Sudilovshy ('08 graduate with a major in Physics) is in a Ph.D. program at the Max Plank Institute in Germany.

Political Science

Tamer El-Amoor ('12 graduate with a major in Political Science) is pursuing a juris doctorate degree at Valparaiso University.

Dana Hamdan ('11 graduate with a major in Political Science and minors in European History and Sociology) has been admitted into New York University for a masters program in Educational Leadership, Policy and Advocacy.

Trevor Corning ('10 graduate with a major in Political Science and a minor in Economics) is working with Brookings Executive Education in Washington, D.C., assisting with the logistics of their public policy programs.

Walter DeFoor ('10 graduate with a major in Political Science and a minor in Visual Arts) has been admitted into American University's Washington College of Law.

Jennifer Maynard ('08 graduate with a major in Political Science), a women's lacrosse coach at Northwest Guilford High School in Greensboro, NC, was recently named Coach of the Year.

Rebecca Spence ('08 graduate with a major in Political Science) is an AmeriCorps-VISTA Specialist, Rancho Cucamonga, California.

Psychology

Audrey Henneman ('12 graduate with a major in Psychology) is attending Stetson University College of Law.

Sarah Bentley ('12 graduate with a major in Psychology) is the Director of Children's and Youth Ministries at St. Mary's Episcopal Church in High Point, NC.

Jillian Stauffer ('12 graduate with a major in Psychology) is pursuing a master's degree in Counseling Psychology at Temple University.

Amy Baker ('12 graduate with a major in Psychology) is working as a first grade teacher at St. Louis Catholic School in Alexandria, VA.

Peter King, ('12 graduate with a major in Psychology) is pursuing a master's degree in Clinical Mental Health Counseling at Marymount University.

Alexander Brachman ('12 graduate with a major in Psychology) is working as an Environmental Educator with the Tongas National Forest in Alaska.

Damlan Morden-Snipper ('12 graduate with a major in Psychology) is pursuing an internship with Friends Committee on National Legislation.

Kimberly Keys ('12 graduate with a major in Psychology) is working at The Growing Years.

Aaron Bland ('12 graduate with a major in Psychology and a double-minor in Sociology and Film & Video Production) will be attending the MFA Film Production program at Boston University in fall 2012.

Lauren LeFevers ('11 graduate with a major in Psychology) is pursuing a Master's Degree in Applied Psychology with a concentration in Organization and Industries at Sacred Heart University.

Nina Bollag ('11 graduate with a major in Psychology and a minor in Criminal Justice) has been admitted into a graduate program in Family Therapy at the University of Massachusetts Boston.

Kelsey Albert ('11 graduate with a major in Psychology) is coaching special needs children on Star Aquatics team.

Tanya Beatty ('11 graduate with a major in Psychology) is completing a master's program for community counseling at NC A&T.

Vicki Conner ('11 graduate with a major in Psychology) is completing a master's program at UNCG in clinical mental health counseling.

Erin Hopkins ('11 graduate with a major in Psychology) is attending master's program at NYU for performance studies.

Elizabeth LaPlanche ('11 graduate with a major in Psychology) is attending a master's program at Boston University.

Lauren LeFevers ('11 graduate with a major in Psychology) is attending a master's program in Applied Psychology with a concentration in Organization and Industries at Sacred Heart University.

Casey Vandergrift ('11 graduate with a major in Psychology) is president of non-profit Summerfield Performing a Visual Arts, and is attending UNCG for a master's degree in conflict resolution.

Andrew Bell ('11 graduate with a major in Psychology) entered a medical school preparation school at Agnes Scott and plans to apply to medical school.

Markas Brunson ('10 graduate with a major in Psychology) is the Outreach Coordinator for the Center for Adolescent Pregnancy Prevention in Louisville, KY.

Matt Eiland ('10 graduate with a major in Psychology) entered the Peace Corps in Paraguay following graduation.

Stephanie Heafner ('10 graduate with a major in Psychology) is attending a master's program in Social Work and M.Ed. program in human sexuality at Widener University.

Dee Herbert ('10 graduate with a major in Psychology) is pursuing a master's in education at NC A&T.

Carolyn Herlehy ('10 graduate with a major in Psychology) entered the Lutheran Volunteer Corps after graduation.

Joy Herrera ('10 graduate with a major in Psychology) is a Social Clinical Research Specialist at UNCG.

Amelia Holloway ('10 graduate with a major in Psychology) is working in an afterschool program and substitute teacher in Washington, DC.

Alicia Johnson ('10 graduate with a major in Psychology) is living in Paris and working as a caretaker and English teacher.

Kaci Loeffler ('10 graduate with a major in Psychology) began a master's program at UNCG in sports psychology in the fall of 2010.

Ruth Lowe ('10 graduate with a major in Psychology) is accepted to a master's program in school counseling at the College of William and Mary.

Dawn Pugh ('10 graduate with a major in Psychology) is a Guardian ad Litem, NC Courts, Davidson County, NC (An advocate in court for abused or neglected children).

Kyle Riplinger ('10 graduate with a major in Psychology) is accepted to a master,s program in clinical psychology at Barry University.

Megan Slater ('10 graduate with a major in Psychology) is pursuing a master's degree in community counseling program at Marymount University.

Sophie Bell ('09 graduate with a major in Psychology) is Co-leader in ABA in-home program and volunteers in the clinical psychology program at Duke.

Anna Finn ('09 graduate with a major in Psychology) is an Analyst for the FDA and volunteer with American Red Cross.

Terri Patterson Goddard ('09 graduate with a major in Psychology)is in a master's of Public Administration program at UNCG and employed in the HR department for the city of Greensboro.

Kelly Hale ('09 graduate with a major in Psychology) is pursuing a doctorate in Physical Therapy at Marymount University.

Amber Stapler ('09 graduate with a major in Psychology and a minor in Integrated Science) is the new Head Softball Coach at Anne Arundel Community College in MD.

Kelly Hale ('09 graduate with a double-major in Psychology and Health Science) is pursuing a Doctor of Physical Therapy degree at Marymount University.

Alan Rhodes ('08 graduate with a major in Psychology) is pursuing a master's in Library Sciences program at NC Central University.

Emma Williams ('08 graduate with a major in Psychology) Psy.D. program at the PGSP-Stanford Consortium (PGSP stands for Pacific Graduate School of Psychology, at Palo Alto University).

Keira Wilson ('08 graduate with a major in Psychology) received a M.Ed. from the UNCG in Student Personnel in Higher Education.

Glen Zelenak ('08 graduate with a major in Psychology) is pursuing a master's in Counseling at Liberty University.

Religious Studies

Leslie Perry ('12 graduate with a major in Religious Studies) is pursuing a master's degree in Library and Information Studies at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, Greensboro, NC.

Brittany Varner ('10 graduate with a major in Religious Studies and a minor in Quaker Studies) has been admitted to Wake Forest University School of Divinity.

Andrea Robertson ('08 graduate with a double-major in Religious Studies and Sociology & Anthropology) is pursuing a M.F.A. in Creative Writing at American University.

Juliana dos Santos ('08 graduate with a major in Religious Studies and a minor in Dance) is attending Harvard Divinity School.

Sociology & Anthropology

Marissa Dungan ('12 graduate with double-major in Sociology/Anthropology and Women's, Gender & Sexuality Studies) is working at the D.C. Central Kitchen Food Recycling Program.

Lauren Collins ('12 graduate with a major in Sociology/Anthropology) is pursuing a master's degree in School Counseling from Liberty University.

Sarah Stangl ('12 graduate with a double-major in Sociology/Anthropology and French) is accepted as an English teaching assistant in Toulouse, France (TAPIF program).

Martha OrHai ('10 graduate with a double-major in Sociology & Anthropology and English and minors in European History and Women's Studies) plans to study Hebrew and sustainable agriculture in Israel and complete a fellowship with a Jewish retreat center.

Spanish

Mary Washburn, ('12 graduate with a double-major in Spanish and Religious Studies) is pursuing an internship as a teaching assistant with the Spanish government.

Markus Leikam ('11 graduate with a double-major in Spanish and Educational Studies) is teaching at T. Wingate Andrews High School, in High Point, NC.

Laura Herman ('10 graduate with a double-major in Spanish and Sociology/Anthropology and minor in Women's Studies) taught in Peru and is currently working at a non-profit organization in Alaska.

Ruth Lowe ('10 graduate with a double-major in Spanish and Psychology and a minor in Women's Studies) taught Spanish at Carolina Friends School in Durham, NC and is beginning a Masters in Counseling program at the College of William and Mary.

Philip Kennedy ('10 graduate with a double-major in Spanish and Peace & Conflict Studies) is the U.S. Coordinator of the Migrant Resource Center – Fronteras de Cristo program in Aguaprieta, Sonors, Mexico.

Rajani Ward ('10 graduate with a double-major in Spanish and Health Science) is in nursing school at Johns Hopkins and is accepted for a research grant in South Africa for summer 2012.

Saron Smith-Hardin ('09 graduated with a double-major in Spanish and International Studies and a minor in Peace & Conflict Studies) has started a non-profit in Guatemala that works to alleviate malnutrition, hunger illness and poverty.

Kate Shusterman ('09 graduate with a double-major in Spanish and Health Science) is attending Midwestern University's College of Dental Medicine.

Sport Management

Taylor Phillips ('12 graduate with a major in Sport Management and a Minor in Business) is Sports Information Coordinator for CBSi MaxPreps.com in California.

Clayton Hamilton ('12 graduate with a major in Sport Management) is working as a Tennis Instructor at Precision Instruction.

Taylor Phillips ('12 graduate with a major in Sport Management) is attending the Disney College Program.

Zach Daw ('11 graduate with majors in Sport Management and Economics) is an Account Manager for DVSport in Charlotte, NC.

Tyler Sanborn ('10 graduate) is a professional basketball player in France.

Mike Costa ('09 graduate with a major in Sports Management and a minor in Business Management) is Assistant Director of Football and Video Administration with the Big East Conference after completing his Master's degree in Sports Management at Florida State University.

Ben Strong ('08 graduate with a major in Sports Management and a minor in Business Management) is playing basketball for the NBA Developmental League in Iowa after playing pro basketball in Israel.

Theatre Studies

Jake Kresloff ('12 graduate with a major in Theatre Studies and minor in German Language & Society) will be doing a dramaturgy internship at Shakespeare Santa Cruz.

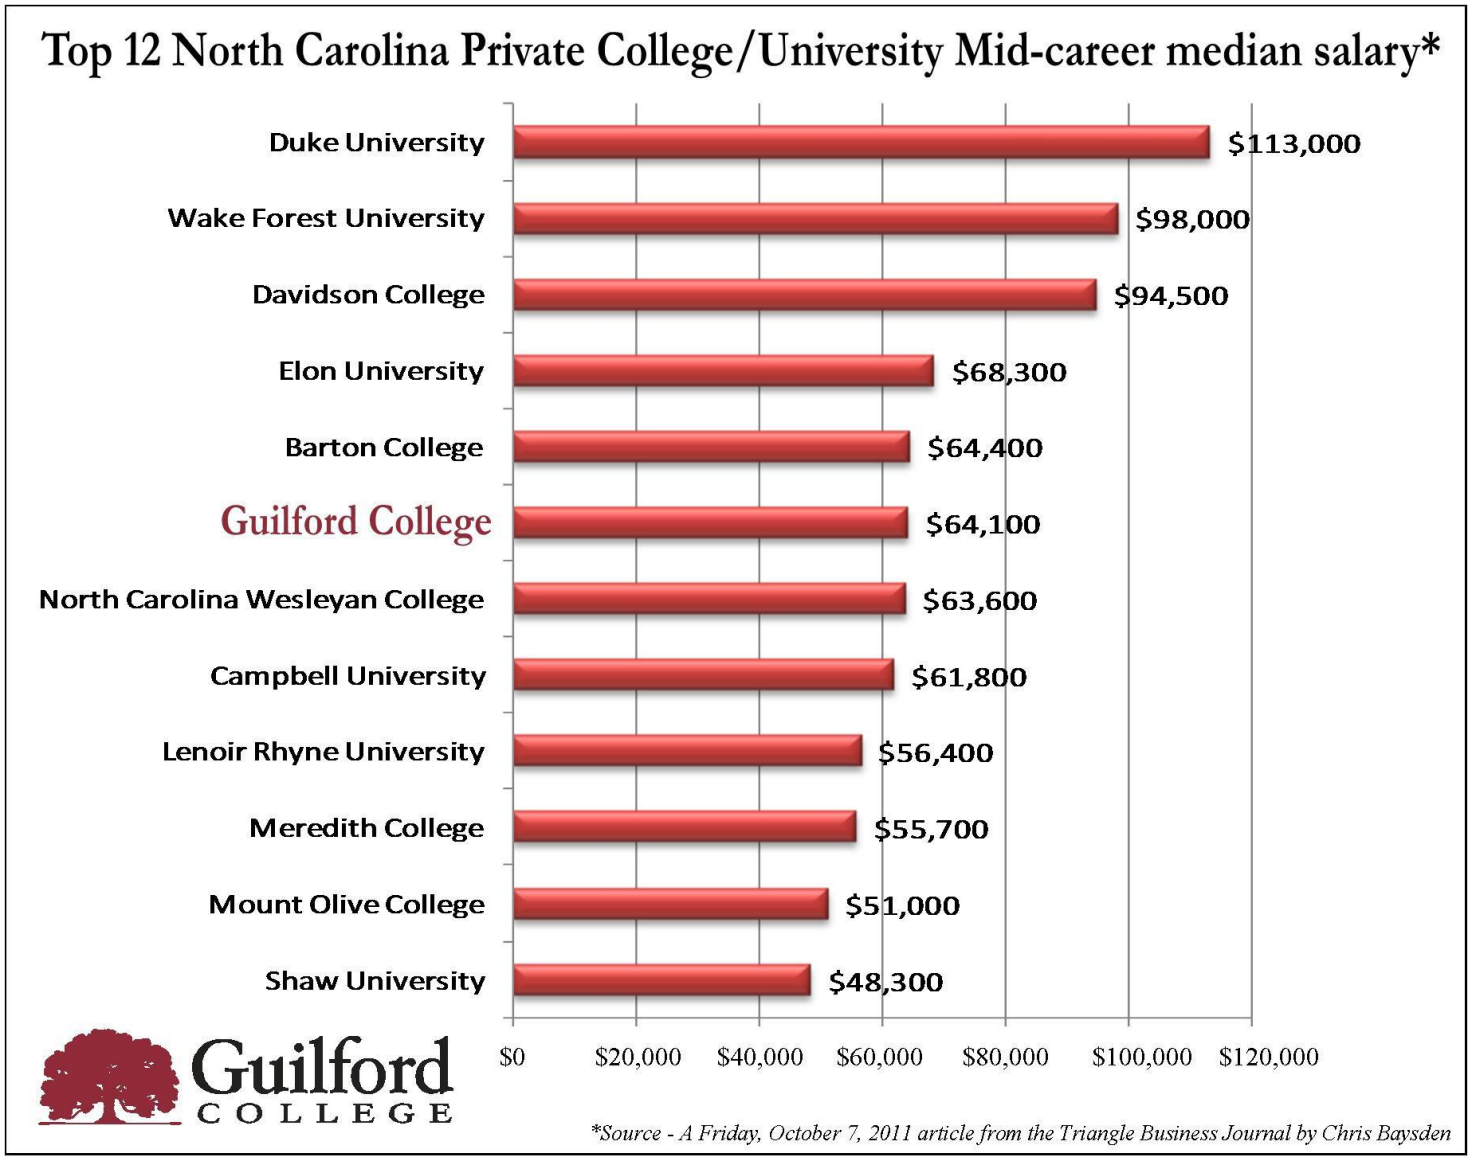
Laura Pates ('11 graduate with a major in Theatre Studies and a minor in Visual Arts) has been admitted into the Master of Fine Arts program in Technical Theatre at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Kate Budries ('09 graduate with a major in Theatre Studies and a minor in English) has been admitted into a graduate program in Library and Information Studies at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Sean Finan ('08 graduate with a major in Theatre Studies and minor in Education Studies) is currently enrolled in New York University's Master's in Theatre Education program and also directs productions with an all-youth community theatre in Washington, D.C.

Scott Lyman ('08 graduate with a double-major in Art and Theatre Studies) is pursuing a Master of Fine Arts degree in Acting at Harvard's Advanced Institute for Theatre Training, where he is currently in Russia studying for three months at the Moscow Art Theatre.

Jacob Martin ('08 graduate with a major in Theatre and a minor in Quaker Studies) is pursuing a Master of Fine Arts degree at Harvard's Advanced Institute for Theatre Training, where he is in Russia studying for three months at the Moscow Art Theatre.

Derek Loehr ('08 graduate with a major in Theatre Studies) is working as both a technician and an actor with Studio 6, the sixth official company of the Moscow Art Theatre School. Most recently he performed in Montreal and Moscow. While in Russia, he appeared at the Chekhov International Theatre Festival.


Jordan Spoon ('08 graduate with a major in Theatre Studies) is pursuing a Master of Fine Arts degree in Acting at Rutgers University's Mason Gross School of the Arts.