Friends Center at Guilford College is a collaborative endeavor of the College and the Religious Society of Friends to strengthen Friends and their institutions.

As a Quaker resource center for the Southeast and beyond, Friends Center provides programs that nurture servant-leaders both at Guilford College and in the wider community. These activities are grounded in prayer, informed by Friends' faith and practice, nourished by worship and spiritual formation, and brought to fullness in Quaker community.

Please join us for a stimulating Quaker Renewal Program (QRP) offering for autumn, 2009: a six-week study of Vanessa Julye's and Donna McDaniel's provocative Fit for Freedom, Not for Friendship: Quakers, African Americans, and the Myth of Racial Justice (QuakerPress of FGC).

Donna McDaniel and Vanessa Julye

The book study is offered in cooperation with the social concerns committee of New Garden Friends Meeting on six consecutive Thursdays, 7:30 – 9 p.m., September 3 – October 8.

Registration form on back panel.

Fit for Freedom, Not for Friendship reveals that racism has been as insidious, complex, and pervasive among Friends as it has been generally among people of European descent. The book documents the spiritual and practical impacts of discrimination in the Religious Society of Friends in the belief that understanding the truth of our past is vital to achieving a diverse, inclusive community in the future.
