

Contents

Page 9

Page 13

Page 20

Page 24

Viewpoint 2

Around Campus 4

Sports 28

Our Time in History 32

Alumni and Family Relations 42

Class Notes 46

Honor Roll of Giving 53

FEATURES

Lessons Learned in Alaska 9

By Julie Larison

Tripp Oakley '98 is in his second year teaching elementary students in a remote Alaskan village. He is inspiring a love of learning by using creative outlets such as performing plays, creating sets and making digital movies.

Celebrating our Quaker Connections 13

By Ty Buckner

Friends Center and the Quaker Leadership Scholars Program are thriving as beacons of the faith for the Guilford community. In addition, recent QLSP graduates Lisa Lundeen '00 and Betsy Blake '99 are seeking their place as young adults in ministry.

Adrift in the Current 20

By Sheridan Hill

Clarissa Jones '04 spent the spring semester working with two autistic children on the North Carolina coast. Her experience allowed her to test the theories she's learned in college and reaffirm her interest in a career as a behavior analyst.

Guilford's Golf Legacy 24

By Dave Walters

The college's golf team won the NCAA Division III title in the spring, adding to a golf legacy that includes four alumni who are driving forces in the industry – Robert Linville '80, Jim Duncan '84, Lee Porter '89 and Steve Wilmot '83.